Regency Alterra™ Wood Fireplace Collection

Sophisticated styling meets high efficiency wood burning technology

The Regency Contemporary Alterra Wood Collection combines the unparalleled tradition of high quality, industry leading engineering along with a sleek, modern cast iron finish. Innovative, designer lines paired with advanced wood burning technology, the Alterra collection is today's complete wood fire concept.

The chic design of the Alterra CS1200 is timeless styling at its best. Sleek side panels, available in black, stainless steel, blue or red, allow homeowners to express their own signature style. The CS1200 also offers 20% greater viewing area than traditional wood stoves, putting the focus on the brilliant glowing fire. The handy wood storage in the base not only provides convenience but creates a beautifully balanced appeal.

The Alterra wood insert collection features a flush door and surround that transforms your inefficient fireplace opening into a style savvy, efficient heater. Customizable backing plates allow the Alterra collection to be installed in almost all fireplace openings. The CI1200 has been especially sized and designed to fit most factory built fireplaces. The CI1250 includes a 2-speed blower; which disperses the heat to the far corners of your living room.

In addition to its designer looks, the Alterra stove and inserts offer practical features such as a reversible door and a removable cool-to-touch handle for ease of operation and a discreet single air control which allows homeowners to easily adjust the heat output. Additionally, at 77.7% efficiency, the Alterra collection is EPA certified, guaranteeing an environmentally friendly burn.
